The whole number admitted since the asylum was opened, on the 16th January, 1843, is 3,933; of whom 1,625 have been discharged recovered, 55 much improved, 588 improved, 758 unimproved, and 466 have died. The number admitted during the year was 424, giving a total of 849 under treatment in the course of the year, of this number 169 were discharged recovered, 21 much improved, 46 improved, 129 unimproved, and 39 have died, leaving 446 remaining at the end of the year.

We learn from the treasurer's report that the receipts of the year amount to $114,807 42; after all payments, a balance remained in the treasury of $2,561 05.

The number of admissions has beed greater by 34 than on the previous year—51 more males and 27 less women. It is an observable fact that the number of males has exceeded that of any previous year. By far the largest number of patients admitted were between the ages of 20 and 38.

After this there was quiet voting for the rest of the afternoon.

Various efforts were no doubt made to lead on new parties to the attack, semed with muskets seized at one of the armories. But fortunately these efforts were unsuccessful, or were given up. It was clear that American blood was up, and that any fresh attempt to trample on it would be yet more signally punished.

Grievous is it that we should have such things to relate in a country of the laws, in a country where the rights of Americans have never before been so daringly assailed, while they were attempting merely to exercise, in peace and in honesty, the great right of suffrage. In defending it they have been forced to spill blood, but it must rest on the heads of those who had trained to corruption and finally urged on to a murderous assault the body of men of whem the two victims were a part.

Last night, about eleven o'clock, a company of men proceeded to the Seventh ward polls, where it was reported the votes were being counted without the presence of any witnesses of the reform party, and requested admittance to the room in which it was being done, in order to see that no foul play was practised. They were refused admittance, wherenon the door of the room was burst open. Those inside fired several shots from pistols at the party outside, none of which, however, took effect, save inflicting a slight wound upon Mr. O'Leary, Chief of Police, who was outside.

We have heard of several rows which occurred in various other parts of the city during the day, but none of them were attended with very serious consequences. Several arrests were made during the day, but none of clock, as we were going to press, that the room where the ballot box of the Seventh ward was deposited, had been broken open by a large number of men, the ballot box taken, and its contents scattered in the streets.

In nearly all the precincts heard from up to the time of our going to press this morning, the reform ticket had been elected by large majorities.

EXTRAORDINARY DISCOVERY AT CINCINNATI—
EXBUMING OF A HUMAN BODY IN A PERRITED STATE—Yesterday atternoon, as some workmen were engaged in excavating a cellar on Linton street, a short distance below John, they came in contact with a hard substance about nine feet below the grade of the street, which, after some trouble was excavated and brought to light, and proved to be a human body in a perfect state of potrifaction. This extraordinary specimen of the human race is a male about five feet seven inches in length. The hair is out very short, and seems to have been shaved in several parts, as its formation is perfect and apparently uninjured by time. The face is singularly formed, and differing in shape and expression from any of the races of the present age. What is more remarkable, the body is perfect all its parts, every muscle, fibre and sinew being perfectly developed. The color is rather of a light grey, and in some parts approaches very near to the white man, although this may have been produced by the action of the soil in which it has been buried, perhaps for ages. A number of eminent scientific gentlemen visited this remarkable and strange exhumation yesterday afternoon, but nothing of a definite character was arrived at relative to the cause, or what length of time it had lain there, although all agreed that several hundred years must have elapsed since it was buried. The body will be removed to the City Council Chamber, in the City Buildings, this morning, where it may be seen by those of our citizens who are desirous of witnessing one of the most wonderful freaks of nature. On Monday it will be shipped to the National Institute at Washington, where it will remain permanently for the inspect in of the world at large.—Cincinnati Enquirer, April 1.

An affray took place in Charlottesville, Va., on the 3d An affray took place in Charlottesville, Va., on the 3d inst., between a student of the University, named Flournoy, and a young Mr. Garth, of Albemarle, in which the latter was wounded—mortally it is thought. A difficulty had occurred between the parties a few days before, near the University, about some cattle which Mr. Garth was driving. On this occasion Garth met Flournoy, as we are informed, in front of the Monticello House, and the encounter was at once commenced. Garth was shot in several places and severely cut. He is not expected to survive. Flournoy received a severe cut in the arm, but not dangerous. rest Confingration in Dansville, N. Y.

LOS $100,000—HALP OF THE BUSINESS PORTION OF THE VILLAGE IN RUINS.

[on the Dansville (N. Y.) Beraid Exiss, April 1.]

In are called upon to record the most destructive confinant tion that has ever visited this village. The fire holds out yesterday afternoon in the wooden building adjeting this office, which, with the high south wind preading and beyond the power of human agency to stay its regress. The entire business portion of the village on oth eides of Main street, north of the point where the fire originated, is one mass of ruins. The Hrald buildings, (brick,) in which our office is located, had a narrow escape. The west end of our office is open, windows destroyed, but we are able to regulate matters sufficiently to issue this at an early hour this morning. It is of course impossible, in the present confused state of affairs, to arrive at any definiteness as to losses and insurance, but we heastly make up the following:

M. G. Sprague, beckstore, &c., Herald betillings; warehouse in rear, stored with glass, paints and oils, burned. Loss 51, 200; fully insured.

House of H. Kershner, in the rear, burned; no report as to value or insurance.

VISIT OF THE LEGISLATURE TO NEW YORK—RICH DEBATE.

Councilman Verbrilly Refered the following resolution, which have rise to some debate:

Resolved, That, the Board of Aldermen concurring, a joint special committee be appointed to receive and welcome it emembers of the Legislature, on their intended visit to the city on to-morrow.

Mr. Kenneny moved for its adoption.

Mr. Clark whoped it would not be adopted, and he moved to lay it over under the rule.

Mr. Kenneny moved a suspansion of the rules, so that the Chair might be able to applied the committee that evening. If it was not adopted that evening, and they not meeting until Monday next, shy the Legislature would arrive bere unwelcomed by the city authorities, and it would be disgreefed for them to neglect the members of the Legislature in that way; therefore, as Mr. Clancy objected to the solopition of the resolution, it lay over under the rules.

Mr. Kennedy moved that a vote of thanks be tendered to the gentleman of the Forty-fourth, for his alequent harrangue.

Sevenal Members—Oh no—withdraw that.

Mr. Kennedy—Well, then, I withdraw.

The Passiness then said that he had indulged the gentleman of the Forty-fourth more than any other member of the Board, perlaps; and had at all times extended to him what courtesies he possibly could. The Chair put the question after he had stated it, and asked the members if they were ready for the question. The resolution was adopted, when the gentleman of the Forty-fourth said the resolution was not carried, as the question was not put properly. I, however, did put the question properly, and the resolution was adopted. I will stick to my decision through thick and thin. The Chair is a man of his word.

After transacting some other important business, the Board adjourned until Monday evening next.
